YAP TREATY RATIFIED IN SENATE BY CLOSE VOTE

Called "Dismal Prologue To Conference"

JOHNSON, LEADER

Attack Forecasts Similar War On 4 Power Pact

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, March 2.—The Senate has ratified the Yap Treaty without reservations or amendments.

Sixty-seven Senators voted for ratification, including 13 Democrats, while 22 voted against, including three Republicans, Messrs. Borah, France and Johnson.

The debate degenerated into a farce. Senator France proposed an amendment extending prohibition to Yap, the object being to kill time and annoy the supporters of the Treaty. The amendment was rejected. The Democratic amendment broadening the existing United States treaty rights on mandated islands was also rejected, by 50 votes against 23, being only one over the necessary two-thirds majority. This narrow margin caused excitement among the Republicans.

After the ratification of the Treaty, Senator Lodge brought forward the Pacific Treaty.

(China Press Service)

Washington, Mar. 1.—The first concerted attack on the conference treaties began when the Senate Foreign committee reported them today.

Administration leaders openly charged that the attacks indicated a filibuster. Johnson and Reed led the fight on the Yap Treaty. Johnson said that the Yap Treaty was a "dismal prologue to the conference." He said that the real purpose was to confirm Japan's control over former German possessions north of the equator which he said were secretly acquired through secret treaties of which the United States would never approve.

Reed charged that the Republicans were trying to force the treaties before the country was aware of their contents.

As soon as the foreign affairs committee concluded its report a flood of reservations appeared. Three were proposed for the Quadruple Treaty. Senator King proposed a reservation that the Japanese control of Yap be regarded solely as administratively without carrying sovereignty.

After several hours wrangling, a unanimous agreement was reached to vote on the treaties Thursday.

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, March 1.—The first action of the Senate in connection with the disarmament Treaties, was the rejection by 50 votes to 23 of the Amendment to the Yap Treaty, amplifying the provision that the existing treaty rights should not be abridged.

The Senate also rejected the proposal to extend prohibition to the Mandated Islands.

JUDGE FRANKLIN OF HONOLULU TO PRACTICE HERE

Mr. Cornell L. Franklin who until recently has been first judge of the territorial circuit courts of the Hawaii at Honolulu who held the distinction of being the youngest judge ever appointed in the Federal Service has definitely established himself as a member of the legal profession of Shanghai.

Judge Franklin was admitted to practice in China on a visit to Shanghai last summer, by Judge C. S. Lobingier, and after his return to Honolulu he obtained his release from the American Federal Bench leaving him free for practice in Shanghai.

While the war was in progress Judge Franklin quit the post of assistant Attorney General for the territory of Hawaii and served through the period of the war with the rank of Major. In Honolulu he was particularly prominent in sports, especially in polo. His formal announcement now being issued states that his law offices will be located in the new Glen Building on the Bund.

N. Y. NEWSPAPERS STOPPED FOR DAY BY PRESS STRIKE

Union Refuses To Abide By Arbitration Award; Settle Later

(Reuter's Service)

New York, March 1.—The Union of Pressmen of the New York morning and evening papers voted last evening in favor of a strike, refusing to accept the wage award of the arbitrator by whose decision both the pressmen and the publishers had agreed to abide.

The pressmen later called off the strike, but a stormy meeting to discuss the award was protracted until it was too late to permit the issue of the usual size papers.

The meeting agreed to accept the award, but appointed a committee to negotiate with the publishers with a view to obtaining a modification of the terms.

The publishers used emergency staffs with a view to publication, but the New York Herald and the World were the only morning papers to appear. Both were much condensed and without advertisements. Princess Mary's wedding was the chief feature of the news columns.

FIRE IN COTTON GODOWN CALLS FOR SMOKE MASKS

Approximately 800 bales of loose cotton valued roughly at $30,000 were destroyed in a fire which broke out yesterday afternoon in the Tung Shing Cotton Mill on Robinson road. One of the Sinza division firemen was overcome by smoke during the fight with the flames, and was discovered by a second fire fighter in the nick of time and rescued, unconscious.

The fire offered a difficult problem to the fire squad, what with the stiff northerly breeze and the dense smoke emerging from the godown in which the fire raged. It was almost impossible to take a nozzle into the building.

The mill staff had organised a fire fighting squad under their manager prior to the arrival of the City brigade and had several jets of water playing on the flames when the big machines arrived.

Smoke masks, and forced openings through concrete roofs solved the problem after the city firemen and the chief officer arrived. The smoke pressure was relieved, and the run of the fire was checked. The fire gave the local brigade its most unusual problem yet confronting it.

The compartment in which the fire occurred contained 1,500 loose bales of cotton, roughly valued at $50,000, owned by R. D. Tata and Co., Nos. 5-10 Rue du Consulat. It was fully insured.

The mill in which the fire occurred had but recently been opened. The part in which the fire broke out was the only portion of the building not yet equipped with automatic fire sprinklers

ENGLAND'S BUDGET FOR YEAR CUT TO £665,000,000

Geddes' Plan For Economy Is Modified

HORNE EXPLAINS

Army And Navy Reductions Less Drastic

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 1.—In the House of Commons today, in the course of the survey of the Geddes Committee proposals, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Robert Horne, amid Opposition cheers, said that the Government had rejected the recommendations regarding the reduction of teachers' salaries and the exclusion of children under six years of age from school. He said that the health of young children had improved immensely by the medical attention and care given in schools. The Government had adopted the recommendation in favor of teachers contributing to a super-annuation fund.

As regards the Navy, the difference between the Admiralty and the Geddes recommendations, the Chancellor said, was almost entirely a question of the personnel. The Admiralty had now agreed to a reduction to 98,000 men as compared with the Geddes recommendation to 88,000 and the Government had accepted a personnel of 98,000 as a minimum. He hoped that greater reductions in naval expenditure would be possible next year.

TO CUT ARMY

With regard to the Army, the War Office had agreed to a reduction of £17,000,000 and 33,000 men, which was equivalent to cancelling 24 line battalions and five cavalry regiments and to a 40 percent reduction of the artillery. Sir Robert Horne said that the Committee's recommendation for a reduction of 54,000 men had been reduced to 39,000, owing to the Indian Government's changing its mind with regard to the number of British troops it needed. He said that the Army, excluding India and the Colonies, would be reduced by 20,000 men as compared with the army before the war. Instead of six divisions being sent overseas at the beginning of war, we would be only able now to send two divisions in the first month of any emergency.

The Chancellor said that the Air Force was reducing its estimates from £13,500,000 this year to £10,500,000 next year and that the Committee of Imperial Defence was enquiring into the question of the establishment of a Ministry of Defence.

OVERSEAS TRADE

After mentioning reductions to be effected by the Ministries of Labor, Health and Pensions, Sir Robert Horne said that in view of the urgent representations from powerful bodies of business men, including cablograms from many parts of the Empire, notably from the Australian Association of British Manufacturers, the Government had agreed that it would be a misfortune to abolish the Overseas Trade Department as recommended by the Committee, but would reduce the expenses of the Administration and effect a saving of £48,000 as compared with £94,000 under the Committee's recommendation.

Summing up, Sir Robert Horne said that out of £86,000,000 reductions recommended by the Committee, the Government had accepted £64,000,000, including £11,000,000 attributable to savings as a result of the decisions of the Washington Conference and £1,000,000 on oil. He said that the Government intended to do its utmost to effect further savings and that they would be able to reduce the provisional estimates by £54,000,000 in the next financial year, but he anticipated that the estimates for the next financial year would be £484,000,000 as compared with £665,000,000 this year.

RATEPAYERS VOTE AGAINST REGISTRY OF CHINESE HELP

Organisation Urges Indefinite Postponement Of Move To Register Servants

The Shanghai Ratepayers' Association placed itself on record Wednesday night that it is opposed to the suggestion by local Woman Clubs to register the Chinese servants at a meeting held at the Royal Asiatic Society.

A resolution proposed by Mr. Ayscough and seconded by Mr. R. N. Macleod, read: "That the presentation of the proposed petition to the Municipal Council in regard to the opening of a registry office under Municipal control be indefinitely postponed." The resolution was carried with only two or three dissenting votes.

Mr. A. J. Hughes presided. About 40 attended.

Mr. Hughes opened the meeting by saying that the committee of the association offered no definite opinion on the question. He expressed the personal belief that any registration short of compulsory would be quite useless.

Strong disapproval of compulsory registration was expressed by Mr. Akehurst and generally agreed to by the meeting. Mr. Heal also opposed the suggestion.

Several alternative measures to registration were discussed but none finally agreed upon.

LL'D. GEORGE SOON TO QUIT AS PREMIER, FRIENDS SAY

First Class Political Crisis Near In London

COALITION'S END

Conservatives Must Be Leaders, Prime Minister's Dictum

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 2.—The feeling in parliamentary lobbies is that a first-class political crisis can hardly be avoided.

The fortunes and life of the Coalition Government are at stake, declares Mr. Lloyd George's organ, the Daily Chronicle, and the Prime Minister's resignation hangs in the balance.

Apparently Mr. Lloyd George first frankly discussed the matter with Mr. Austen Chamberlain, and then put the matter in written form, in order that a perfectly clear statement might be submitted to the Conservative leaders.

The Daily Chronicle says that Mr. Lloyd George therein declared that the present situation could not continue, and that he felt it best that he should resign.

The Unionist leaders conferred, and then met Mr. Lloyd George, and told him that they were prepared to give him the same measure of support as always, Mr. Balfour, pointing out the serious consequences of his resignation both nationally and internationally, most earnestly urged him to continue as head of the Coalition Government. The Prime Minister replied that if the Coalition were to continue, the Conservative leaders in the Government must be the actual leaders of the party.

Prominent Unionists met yesterday, but the issue is still in the balance.

The Daily Telegraph says that well-informed circles are hopeful that the difficulties will be surmounted. The opinion is widespread, however, that the Coalition in the country itself has gone to pieces, and is past mending.

British Shipyard Workers Balk At New Wage Scale

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 1.—A crisis has arisen in the shipbuilding trade in consequence of the men's rejection of the proposed cut in the war bonuses by the overwhelming vote of 113,547 against 11,062. The employers however insist that a reduction of 16s. 6d. weekly is justified, owing to the fall in the cost of living and also the exceptionally serious position of the shipbuilding trade, and have consequently decided that this reduction shall operate from March 15.

The employers, in the meantime, rejected the suggestion to approach the Ministry of Labor with a view to establishing a court of enquiry, but it is probable that the trade unions will submit this proposal to the Ministry.

London, March 1.—The conference of the engineering employers and workers has proved abortive. The possibility of a lockout on March 11 is not unlikely.

U. S. Cardinals To Vote Next Time

(China Press Service)

Rome, March 1.—The Pope today gave an audience to Cardinal O'Connell of Boston and assured him that all American Cardinals will participate in the next conclave, saying:

"The United States is too important to be ignored."

He said he would put forth every effort to make sure that what happened at the last conclave should not happen again.

The American Cardinal told the Pope of Catholic and Protestant co-operation in America saying there was great religious unity in the United States. The Pope expressed deep satisfaction.

Foreigners Spoil Party At The Confusion Temple

By Elsie McCormick

Dear Mr. Editor:

The lady that works for you has went out again. When I asked her where she was going, she said she was going to see the Devil dance.

"You don't say!" I remarked. "How you newspaper reporters do get around!"

Before I asked her where he was dancing, she picked up her muff, her steamer rug, her knitted gloves, her guidebook, her hand bag, her umbrella, and her clean handkerchief, and went out the revolving door.

So here I am writing to you again, just to sort of while away the time. That lecture on "Cells" over at Mr. Rockefeller's place wasn't no good after all. I didn't think it would be much account when I seen the man that was going to deliver it. He was then, with big goggly glasses, and I don't believe he ever was inside a jail in all his life. He begun by saying, "Every cell must have a 'nucleus,'" and right then and there I went out. The police station where I was matron at in Jersey City was one of the most modern you could see anywhere and there wasn't a nucleus in the place. It just shows he didn't know what he was talking about.

RICKSHA IMPRESSIONS

The lady that works for you asked me if Peking had made any new impressions on me since yesterday, and I said no, but a ricsha had, only it wasn't anything I could put in the paper, I been getting around a little, though. Yesterday the desk clerk told me I ought to go out to see some kind of goings on at the Confusion Temple. I didn't know which one he could of meant because they all looked pretty confused to me, but I said all right anyway and climbed into one of them human taxi-cabs.

Would you believe it, though, this Confusion Temple wasn't near as mixed up as some of the others, which shows again how the Chinese do everything by opposites.

When I got there, there wasn't anybody in sight but a lot of foreigners which seems a funny thing to call people that are as good American as I am. I know that if Desk Sergeant Cassidy was called a foreigner, he would arrange somebody's front teeth so that it wouldn't be necessary to use no more Pepsodont, because there wouldn't be nothing to use it on. But out here people don't seem to mind.

FUR COATED FOREIGNERS

Well, anyway, these foreigners was all wrapped up in fur coats and sweaters and steamer-rugs. Their faces was dirty from the Peking dust and all they could talk about was "Ain't it cold? My feet is froze," and "When does the ceremony begin?" One lady said that nothing ever happened until two hours after the Chinese said it would, and another remarked that her cook told her postive it would start at four o'clock. A third one told me that it wouldn't come off till midnight, and that she knew it was true because her ricsha coolie had just give it to her straight. Everybody talked to everybody else without introductions on account of their faces being too dirty to recognise each other.

There was a set of sixteen bells set out in front of the temple, a big drum, and several long musical instruments with strings. One lady with dark brown rings around her eyes said the party was to celebrate the birthday of the gentleman that started the Confusion Temple, but another lady with a smudge of dust on her nose said no, it wasn't, they was going to offer the spring sacrifice. With all of us wrapped up in blankets like a lot of Indian squaws and huddled in a little sunshine against the side of the house, this spring stuff sounded pretty flat.

BLUE PETTICOATS

Well, these foreigners spent from two to three hours stomping from one foot to the other before anything happened. When it did it wasn't much. A Chinese dressed a lot more flashy than the ones you see on the street walked around a little, not much, but enough to give people encouragement. Then in about half an hour there was some more of them, all wearing blue petticoats with gold sashes and black hats that was something like motor-boards, only longer. Pretty soon a lot of little boys all dressed the same way come out, and then we was sure something was going to start.

Well, it did, finally. It was a kind of combination singing-school and reducing exercise. One of them struck a bell, and then all the children struck the same notes with their voices or on a flute. As they did it the rest of the children who had been armed previous with little axes looking as if they belonged to the Visiting Firemen hit a different pose with each tone. After they tired out their places was taken by some more that did the same things with long feathers.

In the meantime the grown men was as busy as the store detective when Light-Fingered Annie edges up to the race counter. One of them, they said, was Minister of the Interior, though I didn't notice that he went inside very much. He spent most of his time

All Europeans Enrolled For Emergency Duty

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Hongkong, March 2.—A telegram from Canton states that four seamen's delegates are expected to go to Hongkong tomorrow with full power to act. The delegates may possibly be accompanied by several members of the Canton Chamber of Commerce.

Hongkong, March 2.—The situation is growing worse. The strikers are picketing domestic premises, and are intimidating the servants who are still at work. There has been wholesale leave-taking this morning.

All non-Chinese Government servants have been invited to volunteer for duty, primarily for the protection of their own departments, and, secondarily, for any other service. There has been a unanimous and cheerful response under the emergency.

As a result of a meeting of representatives of all the Portuguese associations, the Consul has offered the Portuguese community's services unreservedly to the Government.

Servants in the residences of the professors, and at the hostels of the University, have gone on strike. All the undergraduates, including the Chinese, are loyally carrying on. Lots have been drawn for the purpose of assigning respective duties to the students.

The "general strike guilds" have issued a letter to all Chinese to cease work tomorrow night.

Hongkong, March 2.—The strike has spread this morning and now includes delivery coolies of all daily necessities. The Dairy Farm, Ice and Cold Storage Company Limited were not able to deliver milk and meat to houses and very many European householders are without domestics.

The butchers' stalls in the markets are without meat.

The Chinese who ventured to cross the frontier on foot were rounded up by the military and taken back to Hongkong by train.

The Bishop of Victoria is holding an intercession service at St. Andrew's Church this evening.

(Kuo Wen News Agency)

Canton, Feb. 28.—In connection with the seamen's strike, the Hongkong authorities have taken a more conciliatory attitude. The Hongkong Governor has telegraphed to General Chen Chiung-ming, the Civil Governor of Kwangtung, stating that the ship-owners are now prepared to grant the strikers an increase of 25 percent and to meet their other demands.

As a result of this, General Chen called a meeting of the strikers and delivered an address in which he urged them to return to work within three days. Yesterday the strikers held a mass procession to celebrate their 'victory.'

Bail Refused To Banque Official

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 2.—Paris advices state that M. Pernotte's request for bail has been refused. The magistrate heard the evidence of ten directors of the Banque Industrielle de Chine concerning 200,000 francs presented to M. Pernotte on January, 1920, by the Board allegedly at the instance of the President of the Bank himself. The report states that M. Pernotte has appealed to another court.

Holland Declines To Help Russia

(Reuter's Service)

The Hague, March 2.—The Chamber has rejected a motion to appropriate 1,000,000 guilders for Russian famine relief. The Minister of the Interior stated that the financial position of the country did not warrant the grant but the Government would be ready to encourage private relief efforts.

HYPHENATES TO FORE IN OPPOSITION TO TREATIES

Start Senate Fight With Big Newspaper "Ad"

DELAY IS CERTAIN

Attackers Led By "All America National Council"

(Reuter's Special Service)

London, March 1.—The Washington correspondent of the Morning Post states that in a full page advertisement, the Washington Post for which the "All America National Council" is responsible, calls on the American people to defeat the Washington treaties, "as a denial of our ideals and the surrender of our interests."

The signatories of the advertisement are mostly "hyphenates," which suggests that the Irish and Teutonic elements are endeavoring to wreck the treaties out of hatred of England.

The advertisement is part of the tactics of the Opposition, who are playing for time, in the hope of creating public sentiment against the treaties.

The debate has seriously disturbed the supporters of the Administration and from the present outlook the debate will drag on for many weeks, whereas the Administration hoped that two or three weeks would be sufficient.

The opposition to the Yap Treaty, Senator Johnson said, was trivial as compared with the fight which would be made on the Four Power Treaty.

Municipal Band Week's Program

Chita Yields To Japan's Demands

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, March 1.—It is reliably stated that the Chita Government representatives at Dairen have agreed to the Japanese demands for the non-fortification of Vladivostok. It is believed that the holding of the Genoa conference was the deciding factor with the Chita authorities who hope to gain recognition of the Far Eastern Republic at Genoa. A final agreement is expected soon.

Measles Now Rank As Greatest Menace

Measles take the first rank among communicable diseases on the health department's report issued yesterday in the Municipal Gazette. Seventeen foreigners and fourteen Chinese died of the disease in the past week.

A notable feature of the report is the total lack of Cholera both in foreign and Chinese quarters and the great reduction in the number of cases and casualties from smallpox in foreign and Chinese circles. The table shows cholera blank in both columns, and smallpox with no foreigners and only eight Chinese as having died during the week.

CALLS CONFERENCE

Peking, Feb. 27.—It is reported that the President, as the next step towards bringing about a settlement of the Cabinet deadlock, has summoned both General Wang Shih-chen and Mr. Chi Chi-chien to Peking for a conference.

standing on a cocoanut fibre rug opposite the open door, with four other men at the corners, and a couple of others chanting back and forth to each other. At every few words he had to kneel down and bow. Somebody said he had to bow ninety-six times, but I didn't count them and so couldn't say for sure. I shouldn't wonder at all but what he will be laid up with housemaids' knee.

Well, all this went on for quite a long while. The music wasn't half as bad as I expected, and the costumes of the men, the poses of the little boys, and the door opening into the big, dark temple, made it a pretty sight.

PICTURE SPOILED

The only thing wrong with the picture was them foreigners done up in their blankets, trying to push right into the foreground. Pretty soon the men went into the temple and came out carrying red lacquer trays with nothing on them. Then a boy made a new kind of noise by scratching the paw toothed back of a wooden tiger with a kind of golf-stick, and the show was over.

After waiting all them hours in the cold, we heard from the Master of Ceremonies that what we seen was only the dress rehearsal, the real show taking place at three o'clock in the morning. Did I wait? Well, there was as much chance of my staying as there was for Sheriff McGinnis to appoint a deputy named Rosenstein.

I see now that they don't call it the Confusion Temple because of its looks but because of the way they do things there.

The lady that works for you hasn't come back yet, but I must stop anyway because I'm going out myself. The desk clerk asked me if I'd rather see the Winter Palace or the Summer Palace today, and I said the Summer Palace because I thought it would be warmer.

Yours truly,
ANNIE RYAN.

SUICIDE CHARGE AGAINST ROWE IS DISCHARGED

Magistrate Does Not Consider Imprisonment Good Cure For Such Offense

The charge against Mr. Harry Rowe of the Shanghai Mutual Telephone Company for attempted suicide at his home, 3 Thorborn Road, last Saturday by cutting his wrist with a razor was discharged yesterday in the British Police Court. Mr. Rowe undertook not to do such a thing again.

Magistrate King remarked that under the English law attempt at suicide was a misdemeanor, and the Court was empowered to send the person to jail. He did not consider that imprisonment was the best way of dealing with the offense.

Mr. O'Donavan, who lived with the defendant, testified that on the day of the incident, the defendant came to his room, knocked at it and said "I have done it. Goodbye." Then he dropped at the door and fainted. He noticed his wrist was cut, and tried to stop it bleeding by tying a bandage. He then telephoned to the Police. After this act of the defendant, witness noticed a razor and a letter lying on a table.

Mr. Porter, of the telephone company, said the defendant's work was very satisfactory. On Saturday morning, two days before the incident, he had received a letter of resignation from the defendant, but could not account for it. He tried to get him but failed. He could not say absolutely whether the company would take him back.

Asked why he did it, the defendant said "I made an idiot of myself, and I promise not to do it again."

GERMANY PAYS

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, March 2.—Germany has just paid the fifth instalment of the Reparations indemnity amounting to 31,000,000 gold marks.

CUTTING OFF OF FUNDS PUTS NAVY AT A STANDSTILL

U. S. Ships All Over The World Virtually Anchored

(China Press Service)

Washington, March 1.—The American Navy virtually is at anchor today no matter where the ships may lie, owing to the action of the House appropriations committee in cutting the amount requested for the Navy in the deficiency bill from $12,000,000 to $6,272,000.

The Navy Department immediately planned to stop all steaming of warships, leaving craft where they are until funds are made available to move them or bring them home as the case may be.

The deficiency bill as reported carries $109,000,000, some $76,000,000 less than asked. Out of this enormous cut the Navy is asked to stand $60,000,000 or more than 80 percent of the whole reduction.

Tokio, March 1.—According to an announcement made by the Navy Department, the following ships are to be scrapped in accordance with the Arms Limitation Agreement:

	Age in Years		Age in Years
Hizen	20	Mikasa	20
Kashima	16	Katori	16
Satsuma	12	Aki	11
Settsu	10	Ikoma	14
Ibuki	12	Kurama	11

Those now on the stocks are as follows:

Amagi, Akagi, Kaga, Tosa, Takao, Atago. These are also to be scrapped.

The following is the list of ships to be built after the expiration of the Naval Holiday to take the place of the scrapped ships:

	Date of Commencement of Building	Completion
Kongo	1931	1934
Hiyei	1932	1935
Haruna	1932	1935
Kirishima	1933	1936
Fuso	1934	1937
Yamashiro	1935	1938

"PAPA" JOFFRE OVERWHELMED BY HOSPITALITY

French Soldier Beginning To Feel Effect Of Strain

(China Press Service)

Peking, March 2.—"Papa" Joffre is about "all in" as a result of the tidal waves of hospitality that have all but overwhelmed him since he landed in China. Doubtless, if the grim old fighter's innermost wish were known, it would be that somebody might bring him the old slippers and the old smoking jacket and the old pipe, and then go away and let him sit before the old fire, and keep on sitting there for the next million years.

The only people who can show more unrelenting hospitality and entertainment than Japanese are the Chinese, and the Chinese military and civil authorities are determined to do the utmost of honor to the great Frenchman. We venture to say that he will be an even more tired old man who arrives at Shanghai.

The Marshal is not travelling for glory, neither for pleasure. He is travelling to serve his France, and he takes this task as strenuously and earnestly as any which devolved upon him in the French High Command. Marshal Joffre does not, as Viviani, wallow in the wave of popular ovation, nor does he, as his contemporary Foch, serenely ride its crest.

His visit to the Orient at this time, however, is, under pleasant conditions. The strong feeling, both for and against France, which has come into existence in America and other countries of Europe, is still absent in the Far East. The feeling toward France in Japan is one of gratitude and of desire to cultivate more closely the friendship of a faithful diplomatic ally. In China it is still one of almost unmixed admiration for the wonderful courage and tenacity exhibited by the French nation through the dark hours of the war.

Back in the nineteenth century, France, in the minds of Chinese, stood for the worst forms of aggression upon her sovereignty and territory. But France's deeds were forgotten during the still more imperialistic acts of Germany and Japan.

There exists, throughout China today, a good-will toward the French people which is only second to that which exists toward America. In sending Joffre to China, France is exhibiting a stroke of that prescient diplomacy which seems to be so lacking at the present moment in her European relations.

Had the Marshal visited Japan alone, the Chinese would have been resentful. Had he visited Japan after China, they would have been suspicious. Since he visits China last, they are well pleased. For no one, more than themselves, realises better the "fetching" power of their unmatchable hospitality to the honorable guest.

The tentative program arranged by the French authorities for the entertainment of Marshal Joffre during his visit here provides a varied schedule for the distinguished visitor. On March 9, the day following the Marshal's arrival, he will make an inspection tour through the International and French Concessions. In the evening a dinner will be given in his honor at the French Consulate, followed by a lantern procession.

On March 10, he will review the French Municipal Police, lay the corner stone for the extension of the Franco-Chinese Municipal School, plant a tree in Koukaza Gardens to commemorate the Allied Victory, attend a reception at the French Municipality, and later a banquet given by French and British war veterans. The following day, Marshal Joffre will review the Shanghai Volunteer Corps, and attend a dinner which is being arranged by the French community.

Original Religion Of China Is Subject Of Lecture Today

The Literary Department of the American Woman's Club will meet today at 4:30 p.m. at the Royal Asiatic Society Rooms, when Dr. Frank Rawlinson will speak on the "Original Religion of China." Dr. Rawlinson has made a special study of the subject and the lecture is assuredly one which should attract the attention of all students of Chinese history and religion. The meeting is open to the public and all interested are welcome.

EMPIRE STATE WITH NEW CREW PROCEEDS SOUTH

Cantonese Help Is Dropped Here By Pacific Mail Steamship

After discharging her dissatisfied Cantonese crew in Shanghai, the Empire State, Pacific Mail Steamship, was manned by a fresh recruit of 126 Ningpo sailors and sailed yesterday afternoon from the China Merchants' Central Wharf for Hongkong and Manila. The vessel was delayed one day on account of the attitude of the old crew.

Before the Empire State reached Shanghai, there was conspicuous manifestation of uneasiness among the Cantonese as the result of the strike of the sailors in Hongkong. The company decided to replace them with Ningpo men, but the crew showed a defiant disposition when this was attempted. The United States Marshal and the Municipal Police had to be called in order to maintain order aboard. The discharged men will be returned to their homes in Canton later.

There were no fresh indications here yesterday that the strike will spread to Shanghai. Ningpo men still continued to sign up for duty aboard ship.

The Empress of Japan is still in port, and until the local office gets instructions from the head offices at Hongkong, the vessel will not be despatched. It is said that 2,000 Ningpo men are ready to go aboard as soon as orders are received. Most of these will be used as cargo coolies at Hongkong.

Only a few scant messages were received from the Crown Colony yesterday. It is felt here that this may be the result of the war-time powers granted the government.

DRUG DEN RAIDED

(U. S. Navy Radio Through Reuter)

Los Angeles, March 1.—Six men were arrested in a raid on a narcotic den last night, which the police expect will develop clubs in connection with the Taylor murder.

Chief Of Staff At Peking Digs For Buried Gold

The report of a hidden treasury amounting to $1,700,000 in the premises of the Office of the General Staff has prompted the Chief, General Chang Huai-chi, to start excavation work in the courtyard. An old servant of the office claimed that this vast quantity of cash was buried in the ground during the Manchu Regime and he had an idea where it was to be found. Forty coolies have been employed by Chang to unearth the bullion.

J. J. DUNNE NAMED NEW PRESIDENT OF IRISH SOCIETY

Mr. J. J. Dunne was elected president of the St. Patrick's society yesterday at the annual meeting of the organisation which was held at the Palace Hotel and Mr. R. B. Boorhead was elected vice president.

The following comprised the new committee: Messrs. T. P. Givens, M. J. Lydon, Gilbert Peet, D. P. Griffith, J. J. Stafford, J. D. and J. Egan.

In connection with the election the presidency was again offered to Mr. Griffith who declined the honor on account of the fact that he is going home in the coming year.

Again this year the question of the observance of the big annual Irish event on March 17 was discussed and it was determined that a dinner and dance will be held, arrangements for which are to be made later. Mr. K. Begdon again was elected to fill the post of Piper of the organisation.

The society's activities for the past twelve months were reviewed in the address of the president as follows:

"Uppermost in the minds of all Irishmen, at the present time, needless to say, is the Irish question. At our last general meeting, I expressed the hope that the time was not very far off when conflict would cease and give way to peace and harmony, and today we are encouraged to believe that that hope is near to realisation.

"It cannot be expected that any country having passed through such dreadful tribulation and unhappy turmoil as Ireland has done in recent years—rapine, bloodshed and plunder that has shaken her to the very foundations—can by mere strokes of the pen in attaching signatures to a treaty of peace, settle down at once.

"There is an aftermath—a convalescent stage—during the currency of which no guarantee can be given that a relapse—not necessarily fatal—will not occur. The convalescent stage which Ireland is now passing through must necessarily contain the seeds of relapse, but careful and skilful nursing combined with firmness and justice should ensure a return to health, strength and prosperity.

"You all have heard the expression 'England's difficulty is Ireland's opportunity,' but, gentlemen, it is my firm belief that the Irish Free State, as a unit of the British Empire, will in time to come interpret this in a very different sense from the interpretation heretofore put upon it, and that in the event of difficulty confronting England, Ireland will come forward with all her resources to assist the Mother Country.

"Ireland's sons have in the past helped to build up our vast and glorious empire—in diplomacy in the Navy, in the Army, in finance and commerce and in the learned professions, and they will continue to do so in the future with a united front."

Concert Program Decided Success

Altogether enjoyable was the program given last night at The Town Hall in aid of Russia's starving children and a considerable sum was realised from the affair which was arranged under the auspices of the newspaper, The Shanghai Life. Particularly noteworthy on the program were the selections given by Mme. E. Valazzi, soprano and Mme. S. de S. Pittard, pianist. Special selections given by the Municipal Orchestra were received with rounds of applause.

More than fifty cases were heard yesterday in the weekly traffic court at the International Mixed Court, a record for number of complaints since the institution of the tribunal some few months ago. The cases on trial were all for minor offenses against traffic regulations and only small penalties attached.

Fine Is Imposed On Traffic Violator

A fine of $2 for each offense was imposed by Magistrate King of British Police Court yesterday on C. P. Rakusen, charged with violation of the traffic bye-law by driving his motor cycle on October 21 and October 27 without a tail light on North Szechuen Road.

It will be remembered that the appeal before the Full Court of the British Supreme Court resulted in the Judges ordering the case to be sent back to the Magistrate with directions to convict.

Magistrate King said that "with directions to convict" was not as misleading as the newspapers represented. The Full Court said that the regulations were not to be subjects of decisions in that Court, and should be referred to Peking. It would not be competent for the Magistrate to consider it, nor was it competent for the Full Court to consider it. It fell then that it was outside the province of the Magistrate and outside their province, and the case had to be referred to the trying Magistrate with instructions to convict.

Magistrate King, in an elaborate explanation said the Full Court had used his finding and facts. Frankly speaking, he could not see what else the Full Court could do.

It did not seem to him to be necessary to carry out the directions of the Full Court in the absence of Mr. Rakusen, who had been ill for sometime, and was in the hospital. He had adjourned the hearing several times, and as the offences seemed to him to be minor ones, he inflicted a fine of $2 each.

Financial Crisis Acute At Harbin

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Harbin, Feb. 24.—The financial crisis is still acute at Harbin and many firms which are unable to meet their obligations are closing down. Although communications with Chita and Vladivostok are now comparatively safe very little confidence is being shown in local business circles and very little business is being done with these markets. The fact that Chita and Vladivostok are spending more than their incomes may explain the situation. Notwithstanding this situation, however, new firms are opening here continually and foreign representatives of business houses are constantly arriving, with the object of investigating conditions and preparing the ground for future operation.

Bearcats Concede Title For League Basketball To The Strokeside Five

Despite Popular Demand For Playoff "Y" Team Drops Out

The Strokeside of the Rowing Club is the champion basketball team for 1921-22 on latest information.

When they finished the three months season tied with the Bearcats at 17 wins and one loss each and gave a challenge for the title it was hoped that a post season game or series might be played to decide the title.

The Bearcats however announced yesterday in response to the Strokeside's challenge for a playoff that they were willing to concede the season's honors to the Rowing Club five.

While the outcome of the winter season of basketball was in doubt even after the last game, it was hoped that a decisive series would be played between the two leading teams for the championship.

When the tie resulted after the schedule was completed however, and the Strokeside offered to play off for the title the Bearcats answered back that they could not get together for a championship game and would concede the title.

Hundreds of basketball fans will be disappointed by reason of the abandoned post season series, yet the approach of the rowing season, and the absence of the Bearcats' best players precludes a definite decision of the game's title.

Ray Smashes Record In 3,000 Meter Run

New York, February 18.—Joie Ray, crack long distance runner of the Illinois Athletic Club of Chicago, today set a new world's record for the 3,000 meter run indoors, when he covered the distance in eight minutes, thirty-one and two-fifths seconds.

Ray's performance was considered all the more remarkable in athletic circles here because of the fact that he has been forced to take a long lay-off and had considered giving up running altogether.

One-Armed Fighter Has Many Victories To His Credit

Sammy Butts, the only one-armed fighter in the country, is a bantamweight. He was run over when a youngster, and his right arm was crippled. Doctors advised him to take up boxing in the hope that the exercise would help. He is quite adept with only the left hand and manages to ward off his opponent's blows with the right. When he first started he could barely move the crippled arm. He has fought fifty-six fights; five were draws; lost two decisions and scored forty-nine knockouts.

RAILROAD XI'S PLAY FOR YEAR'S TITLE SATURDAY

The annual football match between S.N.R. and S.H.N.R. will be played on Saturday, weather permitting, on Markham Road ground at 3:00 p.m. sharp. A special train will leave Shanghai North for the ground at 2:35, and no tickets will be required.

The S.N.R.R.C. invite the presence of those interested. The service of Kiangwan Orphanage Band has been secured and tea will be served in the marquee.

The S.N.R.R.C. won the match of 1919-1920, while S.H.N.R.R.C. won for the preceding two years. A tie game of 1-1 resulted in 1920-1921.

The game Saturday will decide the permanent winner of the Managing Director's Challenge Cup. Mr. A. H. Leslie is expected to referee the game.

THE CARE OF THE BABY

is every good mother's first consideration, and often enough she is so worried by the little one's aches and ills that she does not know which way to turn to find for it relief.

To every mother Baby's Own Tablets, the Canadian children's remedy, are a real friend. They gently regulate the bowels and stomach, break up colds and simple fevers, expel worms, cure vomiting and indigestion, and make teething easy. They promote calm natural sleep, good appetite and regular development, are equally helpful to infants and children of all ages.

Baby's Own Tablets are obtainable from chemists, or post free at 60 cents the vial from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai.

Canada And U. S. Form New Leagues

Edmonton, Alta.—Baseball club owners here from Regina, Sask.; Calgary, Vancouver, B. C.; Tacoma and Edmonton, organised the Western Canada League and the Pacific International. Franchises in the new circuit were granted to Bob Brown of Vancouver and W. H. Klepper of Tacoma. Deacon White, president of the Western Canada League, is president of the new organisation.

The player limit for the league was set at fourteen and a forfeit guarantee to finish the season of $1,500 was decided upon.

Y.M.C.A. DRIVE NEAR GOAL

With $43,282 already pledged, the drive for the Y. M. C. A. fund is now two-thirds of the way to success. The struggle is close and the two top teams in the list captained by Messrs. C. C. Nieh and K. S. Lee are only a few hundred dollars apart. Foreign firms are taking an added interest in the campaign and several contributions from this source were reported at last night's meeting.

College Disqualifies Men For Professionalism

Big 'Varsity Players Are Barred For Holiday "Lark" Match

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 30 (By The Associated Press).—Eight athletes of Notre Dame University among them two all-American football players, a championship track man and captains of the basketball and track teams, today confessed to school authorities that they had played in the semi-professional football game at Taylorville, Ill., last November, which produced the biggest collegiate athletic scandal in the annals of American colleges.

Immediate disqualification of each man was announced by the university officials.

The men disqualified were:

Eddie Anderson, Mason City, Iowa, all-American end.

Chester Wynne, Orinaque, Kan., all-Western fullback, selection of several football writers, and star captain of track team.

Roger Kiley, Chicago, varsity end; captain of the basketball team, and star track man.

Robert Phelan, Fort Madison, Iowa, sub-varsity fullback.

Earl Walsh, Adrian, Iowa, sub-varsity back.

Dick Seyfrit, Carlinville, Ill.; sub-end.

The players exonerated Gus Desch, member of the American Olympic team, and John Mohardt, All-American back, from taking part in the game, saying that neither was in any way implicated in the affair.

The players made their statements voluntarily. They insisted that they received no pay and said they agree to take part in the contest simply as a Thanksgiving holiday lark and without knowledge that the affair was the outgrowth of town rivalry which became so acute that about $100,000 was said to have been bet on the game.

In agreeing to play with the Carlinville, Ill., eleven against Taylorville, the Notre Dame men were unaware that the nine University of Illinois stars recently disqualified for their part in the matter were to play with Taylorville, they said. Satisfied that the men who confessed were the only Notre Dame students to be implicated in the scandal, the school authorities tonight had launched an intensive investigation to find who was the "fixer" of the affair and what means were used to tempt the lads into professionalism.

This man, if a student, will be expelled from school, it was announced.

WRECKS 3 MAJOR TEAMS

The disqualification of the eight men, together with graduations and disqualification of three other men recently for playing in a professional game at Green Bay, Wis., was looked upon as wrecking Notre Dame's chances in football, baseball and track during the coming season. Coach Knute Rockne will not have a single regular around whom to build his 1922 eleven, while little hope was held forth for successfully replacing the track and basketball men. Wynne and Shaw were sure first place men in the hurdles and weights, respectively.

Premier's Flare-Up Causes Big Stir In Britain's Politics

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 1.—The political sensation of the hour is an alleged communication from Mr. Lloyd George to Mr. Austen Chamberlain. Though it is not confirmed that the Prime Minister sent a letter to Mr. Chamberlain, the evening papers agree that he complained at least verbally of the disloyalty of a section of the Conservative Coalitionists and intimated that he did not intend to submit any longer to language and tactics deliberately meant to humiliate him.

The quarrel dates back to the action of Sir George Younger, the chairman of the Conservative organisation, in thwarting the Prime Minister's plans for a general election early in the new year, and has since been accentuated by speeches of Sir George Younger sneering at the Coalition Liberals despite the assurances of loyalty Mr. Lloyd George received from Mr. Chamberlain and Lord Birkenhead.

A meeting of the Conservative leaders was held today to discuss the position.

Apart from the irreconcilable die-hard Conservatives, who desire a rupture with Mr. Lloyd George, a section of the Conservatives is dissatisfied with the Government's failure to reduce the income tax.

German General Staff In Reunion

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, March 1.—The principal German generals of note during the war were present at a dinner this evening at which it was decided to create an association of the members of the old General Staff.

Exchange Fluctuations

Asia Banking Corporation

March 2, 1922

Spot bar silver was up ¼d. and forward down ⅛d. in London yesterday. The New York price declined to 62⅝ cents, and the London-New York cross rate was unchanged at 443⅞.

The only changes here today from yesterday's rates were a drop in the Franc rate to 730 and a rise in the Rupee rate to 239¼. Our market from the opening was firm today, and gained in strength as the day advanced.

Business in Sterling at the opening was done at 3-0⅝ for March, 3-0⅝ for April and 3-0½ for May.

Gold Dollars at the opening were done at 68 for March and 67⅞ for April. These, however, were the lowest rates at which business was done, and in the afternoon there were sellers of Sterling at 3-1¼ for March, 3-1⅛ for April and 3-1 for May.

There were sellers of Gold Dollars at the same time at 68¾ for March and 68¼ for April-May. Speculators were heavy sellers today and as there was not much demand, banks were not good buyers.

London report their spot market as being firm with India buying, and their forward market weak. New York advise no business being done for spot, but good sellers for forward delivery.

Exchange Market

Messrs. Maitland, Fearon and Brand write as follows in their exchange circular for week ending Wednesday:

Exchange:—The London price of silver at 32⅛d. is 1½d. lower than last week. With a good demand for Gold remittances and no cover our rate for T.T. on London has moved below the parity of silver to 3s. 0⅛d. a drop of 2⅛d. since our last circular. For the present, there appears little likelihood of cover, as exports remain stagnant and the profit taking which supported the market for a while is finished. We close weak on the basis of about 3s. 0⅛d. for T.T. on London and 67 T.T. on New York.

Our stocks of silver are reported as follows:

Sycee and Bar Silver Tls. 33,586,000, a decrease of Tls. 230,000.

Chinese and Mexican Dollars $28,870,000, an increase of $2,010,000.

The Contamination Of Mandarinism

BY H. T. WONG

WHEN the Manchu court which had ruled China with the ironhand for more than three centuries finally passed away in 1912, it bequeathed to the young Republic, among its legacy of debts and disgrace, one thing which will remain historical—Mandarinism Mandarinism was an outstanding feature of the Manchu government. It was transmitted to the Republic through the executors of that government, the erstwhile Mandarins who had flung away their horse-hoof cuffs and donned the frock coat of new officialdom: for, in the struggle which immediately followed the upset of the Tsing House, the "new elements" who had been chiefly instrumental in bringing about the Republic were ousted from the government system, and the self-same Mandarinate which had held sway in the Manchu days continued to rule the new-born nation. Mandarinism was thus preserved unchallenged.

No observer of Chinese affairs can fail to understand what Mandarinism is. It is more than "red-tape." "Squeeze" is one of its principal parts; favoritism another; and cliques and other corruptions form the third. But this is not all. Mandarinism is infectious. We have now a large number of young men who have received years of training and education in Western countries, and who should be fully acquainted with the acknowledged principles of morality. But once they enter officialdom they straightway become "Mandarinised;" they immediately tie their lips with the indispensable Mandarin mustache, cover their eyes from the gaze of their fellow-countrymen with large, black spectacles, and distinguish themselves from the laymen by walking about, stick in hand, with the swaggering Mandarin gait. (The stick is but a recent addition taken probably from the Militarists.) As time goes on, they acquire all necessary qualifications to be regarded as full-blood Mandarins! All this, we must explain, is a necessity for them to keep their place in the Mandarinate. They are indeed under what Mr. Pickwick would call "the force of circumstances."

We would not be doing Mandarinism full justice if we limit its contaminative power to our young men alone. Mandarinism has more victims—foreigners! This seems extraordinary and unbelievable. Yet it is but too true. If one comes in contact with officialdom in the North or under the Northern government in the interior of China, he will not take long to convince himself of the hard reality of this statement.

If we look into some organisations having, however slight, a tint of governmental nature where foreigners are employed, our notion of the straight-forward and matter-of-fact Westerner will receive a serious setback. We see "brown-haired and blue-eyed" individuals hoisted on four-bearer chairs and escorted by armed guards to strike terror into the hearts of peaceful people, aping Mandarinism in the most laughable manner: they seek to put on the "Mandarin airs:" and, in general, conduct themselves as far as possible in the approved Mandarin fashion, so that they may not be mistaken for laymen outside and beyond Mandarin circles. While thus Mandarin-crazed, they connive at "squeeze" and favoritism, and all other corrupt practices characteristic of the Mandarinate. It is only fair to say that they do all this to suit themselves to environments and to secure advancement in the Mandarinate, against their better understanding.

We know of a solid instance. There is a certain governmental organisation in which foreigners are, by agreement, employed. The foreign chiefs of this organisation took particular care to draw up strict regulations with the object of insuring justice and fair-play in the working of the organisation. Certain qualifications were specified for certain positions, to prevent the practice of favoritism and the harboring of sinecures. The deplorable fact remains, however, that incompetent incumbents are found in every "fat" job, merely because they have "face" which is the Mandarin term for influence of some kind. These individuals hold positions of honor with salaries in proportion, and in some instances practise corruption under the protection of their patrons. Their work and responsibility are borne by subordinates who, no matter what their qualifications and length of service may entitle them to according to the regulations, remain forever in their old "shoes," unless they find someone to do the indispensable "influencing" for them. Cliques and rival parties form in the different offices, making them petty Mandarinates.

There was one foreigner in the same organisation who made all the petty Mandarinates stand aghast at his action by discharging no less than eighty percent of the staff of an office he took over! This is but one proof that the regulations, strict as they are meant to be, are of no more value than the "scrap of paper" during the great war. And it certainly behoves the chiefs of such organisations to look into these conditions.

We have said that the above is but one proof of what Mandarinism is doing in what may be considered the most up-to-date official organisation. The fact is, Mandarinism pervades the whole Northern government system; so much so, that the Chinese people have been accustomed to associate a government invariably with Mandarinism. They have been under the impression—and they certainly have been impressed deep enough during the past three centuries—that Mandarinism is government and vice versa.

The success of the ousted "new elements" in establishing themselves in the South has enlarged the Chinese people's conception of a government. They begin to know that there are governments and governments: and that a government may exist without Mandarinism. The Chinese are an easily-contented people. They care not who holds the reins of government so long as that government gives them peace and a chance to develop their trades and industries. Mr. Orrin Keith's vivid articles on the Canton government give the reason why, in spite of the many foreign champions of the Northern regime, the enlightened portion of the Chinese population and impartial foreigners are now more inclined to the South than to the North. The cause is plain enough: The people have given the Northern Mandarinate a trial long enough to make them smart under the hardships; and now that they have seen what the Southern government can do in the city of Canton during the brief portion of its rule there, they want to give it an equal chance to work out the problems of the whole country. In short, they have lost faith in Mandarinism which, after bringing the Tsing dynasty to ruin, has proved itself inadequate to solve the tangles of the Republic; and which, unless checked at once, will head the Republic to the same downfall as it has done the Manchus.

The people have had little idea of what their government should be during the last ten years of their new-born existence. But now that they can compare the Southern Government with the Northern Mandarinate, they are making their choice. They are anxious over the impending struggle between the North and South, but the split among the Northern factions gives them hope; for, in their hearts they feel that the Southern government seems more to be the really democratic government in the making.

Support Is Asked For Local Hospital

These are only a few of the interesting accomplishments recorded in the Seventy-Fifth Annual Report of the Chinese Hospital, more familiarly known as the Shantung Road Hospital, which was presented at the annual meeting at the Hospital yesterday. The report is worthy of careful study by every foreigner and Chinese in Shanghai as a record of one of the noblest charitable enterprises in the Far East. Beneath the maze of cold statistics, one reads in it boundless human suffering allayed, by endless effort, despite all handicaps, on the part of both the foreign and Chinese staff of physicians and nurses.

106,736 Outpatients Given Treatment at a charge, to those who could afford to pay it, of five coppers a visit.

141 Children treated in the Children's Ward.

654 Operations under general anaesthetics.

3,711 Casualties cared for.

434-DAY PATIENT

"One patient," the report prosaically remarks, "who had been in the hospital 434 days was able to pay all but $15 of his 'rice money' (at 20 cents a day), but most of the long cases are free or the patient is not able to pay more than the few dollars deposited on entry.

"One patient was in 399 days, and another 374 days, both being entirely free. These two cases alone, and there have been many others from 200 to 300 days in ward, cost the hospital approximately $1,000.

"Two cases brought in by the Shanghai Municipal Police were 334 days and 208 days in ward and as no money has been obtainable, the hospital has spent about $700 on them.

"Recently, an employe of the S. M. C. Electricity Department, was discharged after 198 days treatment in hospital. As hitherto, the S. M. C. has not paid for the treatment of its employes, so this one was treated free at a cost to us of about $200.

"The policy of the hospital has always been that when a patient or his friends or employers are able to contribute they are expected to do so, but many are not able to give even a little, and it is for these that the Bed Endowment Fund is such a great boon.

NEED FUND FOR "CURES"

"Recently, the Staff has inaugurated a Benevolent Fund to help the very poor patients with clothes, etc. upon leaving. Many just have to be helped when discharged. Some who come in during the warm summer days with only a few poor rags cannot be turned out on the streets in winter without some clothing provided. Others need help to get to their homes away from Shanghai.

"As the Hospital General Fund has to bear such a heavy and increasing burden, the Staff's desire is that this fund should be kept apart. Actually, the hospital's work is finished when the doctor marks the chart, 'To be discharged today,' but no one with a spark of humanity in him could turn one just recovered from illness out on the streets without a thought for his immediate needs—certainly not those who have given thought and care to save the man from his sickness—hence this special fund."

HOPES FOR SANATORIUM

Dr. A. C. Price, in his report on cases in the Surgical Wards, expresses the hope that Shanghai soon may have a modern sanatorium which will provide treatment, especially for children, to remedy chronic diseases such as tubercular joints or bone disesses.

"There are many for whom we can do little," Dr. Price writes. "Children are continually being brought to us with tubercular joint or bone diseases, usually of the hip, knee or spine. Such require months or years of constant treatment. We are only rarely able to spare beds for them, owing to the pressure on our space, but many are unwilling to submit to prolonged treatment, and if admitted, insist on leaving as soon as improvement has begun.

"Some day in the not far distant future it is to be hoped that Shanghai will have an institution where such cases, especially children, will be able to get modern sanitorium treatment. Such a sanatorium would also have a great influence in educating the Chinese public."

NEED SUPPLIES

"We need continued interest, sympathy and financial support from all willing to help and uplift suffering humanity," Cecil J. Davenport, F. R. C. S., Medical Superintendent, writes. "Soap, milk, towels, bandages, old linen, gauze, empty bottles, rice, fruit, cottonwool, etc., can all be made use of by our big family and are most acceptable. We also want friends to come and see the work that the hospital is doing."

MOTOR SMASHES

The foreign resident staff, the report shows, has been increased during the year through the coming of Mr. Beynon to take supervision of the pharmacy department, and the addition of Dr. Agnes Towers, who, before she takes charge of the Women's Department, will spend six months at the Language School in Soochow.

The number of beds now available enable accommodations for 195 patients, 150 in the Men's Hospital and 45 in the Women's. During the year 1135 victims of traffic accidents were cared for. Of these 333 were injured by trams, 532 by motors, 39 by carriages, 136 by carts, and 95 by ricshas, cycles, etc. The report points out that with the increase in motor vehicles, the number of street accidents has increased and many of these patients require prolonged treatment.

The financial statement shows subscriptions and donations from foreigners totalling Taels 30,015.-00 and from Chinese Taels 8,248.30. Salaries and allowances to doctors, nurses dispensers, etc. during the year were Taels 15,533.69; others salaries and wages were Mex. $21.297.71.

America Welcomes Russian Opera Company

The American public and press have welcomed the Russian Opera Company, which was so popular with Shanghai audiences, with open arms. The following account is from The Literary Digest of February 4:

Chaliapin, loaned us by the Soviet Government, bids us a reluctant au revoir. Another season may see him back again, singing others of his famous roles besides Boris. As he goes, there emerges from the other side of the continent a group of Russian singers, known as the Russian Grand Opera Company, who have made their way here from the Orient and across the Pacific. They are a notable illustration of that heroic, wandering people that once were Russia, and they furnish reminders of home to the alienated peoples who are scattered far and wide from their native land. When Chaliapin sings at the Metropolitan it is a novel sight for the ultra fashionable of the orchestra to be backed up by men in sheepskin standing wearily. The San Francisco Argonaut says that the troup now appearing there "fled from the Bolshevists, leaving costumes and scenery behind;" but these necessary adjuncts have been supplied. Of their quality we read:

The singers are probably the rank and file of an original Petrograd or Moscow troup. There are no pronounced personalities, remarkable beauties, or wonderful players in the group, although they all play with sufficient fervor to carry the theatrically tragic story well. They are a clear-featured group, principals and chorus both; the men, however, with their fine carriage and bearing and well-set-up figures, being noticeably handsomer than the women, nearly every one of whom is almost disfigured by poor make-up and a disastrous over-use of black around the eyes.

"The voices are very good, ample, strong, resonant. Again I am compelled to say the men's particularly. Individual excellence among the men stood out higher than that of the women, the best of whom I considered to be Ina Bourskaya, whose mezzo-soprano voice was heard in the role of the aged countess, and who in the single solo, 'Memories,' [in "Pique-Dame"] showed superior ability over the two other woman principals in voice control and the tender shading which results in the expression of emotion."

In Portland, the Oregonian secured some authentic information from Leo Feodoroff, the manager of the company. The story reads like a romance:

"We are just like a big happy family. For five years we have been together constantly and we are like brothers and sisters. If one is lost the whole company cries, every one is sad.

"I do not speak your language correctly as I am so anxious to do, but I am learning always, and passing on what I learn to my friends in the company, who besiege me to teach them to talk American. The nicest thing I like in the thirteen days I have been in the United States is the kindness of its people to us and that they never laugh at our mistakes of English. They listen patiently and kindly and help us in what we are trying to say.

"For thirty-four years I have toured Russia with my companies and this present group I organised in 1917. We spent two years touring the principal cities of Russia and Siberia and succeeded in leaving the war-torn country in 1919. We have since toured the Orient. In Japan at the Imperial theater we gave Puccini's 'Madame Butterfly' in Russian and the Japanese were entranced. We found the most appreciative audience in Java, where we stayed a year. We had always heard of America as a haven of refuge and so we came here, arriving thirteen days ago by way of Seattle. We are on our way east.

"There is no opera that has ever been written which we Russians do not know, and every opera written in other countries has been translated into our language. On the other hand, there are many, many Russian operas which have never been translated out of the Russian, and that is why the world is not acquainted with them. 'The Mermaids' is an instance. 'Pique Dame' is another, although it was translated into German a few years ago for a performance in New York, but it was not as successful as it sung in our native tongue. We have fifty operas in our repertoire."

Correspondence to the Musical Leader (Chicago) speaks of an opera unfamiliar to us, called "The Water Sprite," by Dargomijsky, whose presentation "settled the standing of this company in San Francisco. It was replete with pictures, good music, and served to introduce the great Russian basso, Nicholas Karlash." Says this letter writer:

"'Have you heard the Russian Opera Company' is the question on all sides. The attendance, especially on the purely Russian nights, has been growing by leaps and bounds that bring smiles to managerial faces. But 'managing' this company is not a managerial holiday. Arriving here without a single booking ahead has meant the most difficult kind of juggling to get houses for the company which is of no mean size. There are one hundred artists, chorus and orchestra and ballet. Among them are several singers of real distinction; the chorus polished to perfection, and the dancers such as only Russia can produce. The company possesses a Carmen that has something to show all the Carmens: it has a bass that some one will want to steal; in fact, that is a special charm about every performance given, to say nothing of the mystery and romance surrounding these exiles."

Prince Of Wales Wins Horse Race

(Reuter's Service)

Lahore, March 1.—Reuter's Special Correspondent with the Prince of Wales telegraphs:

The fourth race in the Lahore gymkhana yesterday afternoon was a big affair and for some reason was generally supposed to be for the Princess Mary's Plate. The Prince of Wales mounted amidst a regular storm of encouraging shouts, the purport of which was that he must not fail to win.

His Royal Highness rode splendidly and came in first amidst a hurricane of cheers. Then followed the disappointing discovery that the race was not for the Princess Mary's Plate at all.

This morning the Prince inspected a parade of police in the grounds of Government House where 400 officers and men were present under the command of Inspector-General Farquhar.

The Prince of Wales later paid an informal visit to the troops in the Lahore Cantonment where he inspected pensioners and ex-service men, numbering 200 officers and 4,000 other ranks.

In the afternoon, his Royal Highness was present at a garden party at Shalamar, given by the Punjab Legislative Council. After dinner the Prince departed without ceremony for Jammu.

In consequence of the abandonment, on grounds of economy, of the great military maneuvers which the Prince of Wales was to have witnessed, the remainder of the Indian program is being revised.

British Women's Association Notes

A message of loyal congratulation has been sent to Princess Mary on the occasion of her wedding on behalf of the B.W.A. signed by Lady Fraser as Honorary President. Members will also have noted perhaps that the Association is to have the honor of being included in the address of welcome to be presented by Mr. E. C. Pearce and Mr. E. P. Mackay to H.R.H. the Prince of Wales on his arrival in Hongkong on behalf of British residents in this port.

Fifty-three nominations for the Executive Committee to be elected at the General Meeting on March 15 have been received and these represent twenty new names as well as those of the outgoing committee who are willing to stand for re-election; some of the names have been proposed several times over. A resolution to increase the size of the Committee will be put forward at the meeting and it is satisfactory to note that a sufficient number of ladies are willing to stand for election to supply the addition, if passed. It cannot be too strongly urged that all members of the Association should make a point of being present at the General Meeting. The first year of the existence of any such organisation is necessarily somewhat tentative but the experience gained during that time is, of course, invaluable and the opportunity offered by the first annual general meeting to benefit by such experience should certainly be taken advantage of.

Following are the names of members who have joined the Association since the last notification: Miss Eileen Armistead, Mrs. Kelly A. Davis, Mrs. John Ely, Mrs. L. Fuller, Mrs. E. Gould, Mrs. G. S. Hawkins, Miss Hae Levis, Mrs. Allan Mossop, Mrs. B. Marden, Mrs. R. M. Saker, Mrs. M. H. Togetmior, Mrs. Wheen, Miss Myfanwy Wood, and Mrs. Allan Youngson.

SOCIAL SERVICE LEAGUE

A very enthusiastic gathering of workers of the Hospitals Aid Department came together at Headquarters on Tuesday last with the object of making bandages, sheets, pillow slips, badges and other hospital requirements in response to the earnest call made to the B.W.A. a few weeks back. Several firms hearing of the work proposed have very kindly offered material for bandages, etc., at wholesale prices. It would be greatly appreciated if anyone possessing bandage-rolling machines would lend or give them to the B.W.A. in order to increase the output. It is pleasant to record that this group of members is so keen that it has been arranged to devote the whole of Tuesdays, from 9 a.m. until 6:30 p.m. (instead of the afternoon only as originally proposed) to this work. This should enable all who are in sympathy with the movement to put in an hour or two sometime or other and it is hoped as time goes on that a great many more B.W.A. members will attach themselves to this group. The needs of medical missions throughout the length and breadth of China are very well known and the idea that the combined effort of British women can do something to alleviate sheer physical suffering as well as simplify the work of those who give their lives to helping those who are unable to help themselves is surely attractive enough.

DRAMATIC SECTION

The Dramatic Section made a highly successful debut in the shape of an 'at home' to their fellow members on February 27, when an audience of 110 showed marked appreciation of a delightful program, which included a duologue, "Fest Friends," by Miss Richardson and Mrs. Michael, recitations by Miss Vera Dorin (Mrs. John Snodgrass), songs at the piano by Mrs. Jory, songs by Mrs. Martin Baker, character stories by Mrs. H. Y. Irwine, and a beautiful rendering of Chopin on the piano by the chairman of the Section, Mrs. Campbell. Mrs. Cochrane proved herself the ideal honorary secretary in that, at the last moment, she stepped into a breach caused by illness of one of the two ladies who were to have given a duologue, and gave a recitation which was the success of the afternoon. "the proof of the . . . . " and sixteen applicants for membership of the new Section besieged the office at the close of the performance.

LITERARY SECTION

The Literary Section will be 'at home' to all B. W. A. members on the occasion of a lecture by Mrs. Ayscough on "T'si Shan, the Peak of the East," to be illustrated by lantern slides. This meeting will be held on Tuesday, March 14, at 5:30 p.m. in the Hall of the Royal Asiatic Society at 5 Museum Road. No tickets of admission are necessary.

GARDENING SECTION

The general meeting of this Section, at which officers and committee for the ensuing year will be elected, is fixed to take place at H. Q. on Tuesday next, March 7, when the presence of all members of the Section is requested. It is hoped that a program for the spring months will be ready to present to members on this occasion. Intending members should make a point of joining at or before this meeting. Notices calling the meeting have been posted to all members of the Section but should any have failed to reach their destination the present intimation must suffice. Members are asked to send in change of address to the honorary secretary of the Gardening Section, c-o The B. W. A.

Your Health Comes First

Good Health is your most valuable asset—its preservation should, therefore, receive your most careful consideration. An important point which should always be borne in mind is the fact that a great many forms of ill-health can be traced, directly or indirectly, to disorders of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. It is wise, therefore, to keep these organs in healthy activity. When they show any signs of derangement let that reliable medicine, Beecham's Pills, be taken at once. Always deal with digestive ailments in time. They are far-reaching in their possibilities of mischief if neglected, as they too often are. And yet it is generally easy to keep fit and well and free from many debilitating ailments by the simple use of

Mikado's Envoy Reaches Harbin

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Harbin, Feb. 24.—Colonel Nishi, an Aide-de-Camp of the Japanese Emperor, arrived in Harbin today. There was a review of troops in his honor on the field opposite the Japanese mission. Colonel Nishi was sent by the Regent to study conditions in Manchuria and to distribute gifts to the troops.

C.E.R. REPORTS SUBSIDE

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Harbin, Feb. 24.—The nervousness created by earlier reports from Washington regarding the possibility of important changes in the Chinese Eastern Railway have now subsided.

Various organisations and assemblies are still discussing the matter, but no demonstrations have occurred during the past ten days and the press only refers to it casually.

WHEAT PRICES UP

Dormitories For Chinese Students In U. S. Proposed

(Chung Mei News Agency)

Peking, February 23.—Under the leadership of some Chinese students and merchants a movement is about among Chinese in America to raise a fund for a "Chinese Educational and Commercial Association" building scheme, according to information from governmental circles. The buildings will be used as dormitories for Chinese students and merchants upon the payment of a monthly rent.

More than fifty wealthy Chinese merchants have pledged their support and will raise a capital of $500,000. The buildings will become the property of a Chinese limited company, the sanction for the formation of which has been granted by the Chinese Minister at Washington.

The aim of the company is not to establish only one building but a series of buildings distributed in the principal cities of America. The first is planned for San Francisco. If the experiment proves successful others will be established.

THE stenographer often suffers from headaches without realizing that the eyes may be the source of the trouble.
If the eyes are imperfect, the strain of office work will slowly increase the trouble, bringing about throbbing pains back of the eyes, severe headaches and in time serious damages to the nervous system.
Let us examine your eyes. Our service is built on years of experience and special scientific training in Optometry.
